

Community Update

As we celebrate our 60th anniversary we are welcoming a new brand, new student housing, and a new management structure. After seven dedicated years as Regional Dean of Shuswap-Revelstoke, Joan Ragsdale is transitioning to a new role as special advisor to the President on Indigenous community relations. Allison Gibson, former Regional Dean of Penticton campus, will take on the role of community engagement while Margaret Scharf will continue to manage the day-to-day operations of the Salmon Arm Campus. We are also welcoming Amanda Cockburn as the new Campus Manager of the Revelstoke Centre. Joan will continue to work out of, and be an integral part of, the Salmon Arm campus.

ACADEMIC

Whether upgrading to get into a fall program or picking up a course or two to lighten the following semester, winter is a wonderful time to ease back into school for students returning to post-secondary. It is a less busy time of year, kids are settled into their school year, and it's a time of new beginnings!

TRANSFORMING LIVES AND COMMUNITIES

60 YEARS
Okanagan
COLLEGE EST.1963

Having access to a quality educational institution like Okanagan College for the last 60 years has transformed our community for the better. Congratulations on this milestone- we are excited to see what the next 60 years hold for OC and the region!

-Sylvia Lindgren
Shuswap/Revelstoke
Regional Advisory Committee

"Staying close to home for post-secondary allowed me to stay connected without sacrificing the quality of my education. My first year of sciences in Salmon Arm was so good I did my second at OC Kelowna instead of switching to a bigger school right away. Now I teach alongside my former teachers."

- Eric Evanoff
OC Alumni
Science Teacher at Salmon Arm Secondary
